Appendix II

to

THE BOUNDARIES OF THE SCOTCH-IRISH DIALECTS IN ULSTER

by Robert John Gregg

being a Thesis presented for the Degree of Ph.D.

at

the University of Edinburgh

1963
FINAL BOUNDARIES OF THE SCOTS-IRISH DIALECTS

- S-I areas
- Areas with over 30% native Gaelic speakers (census of 1911)
- Unshaded areas, Ulster Anglo-Irish

Map shows the boundaries of the Scots-Irish Dialects with areas shaded to indicate regions with high concentrations of native Gaelic speakers. Cities and towns such as Donegal, Derry City, Belfast, Lisburn, and others are marked on the map. The map also highlights the Gaeltacht areas, which are regions where Gaelic is predominantly spoken.
TWO

twaw twas twos
tü:
CODE NUMBERS OF INFORMANTS

Down D1, etc.
Antrim A1, etc.
Londonderry L1, etc.
Donegal T1, etc.

Donegal (T)
Londonderry (L)
Antrim (A)
Down (D)